

Planning: Nothing to report

Events: Xmas School Groups and Xmas parties. Facebook is well used by youngsters and will keep folk up to date.

On 6 June next year it will be the 80th anniversary it was much enjoyed by everyone. for the Dallachy Memorial. The response from the Remembrance service was that folk really enjoyed their day. Maintenance will carry on Mary Duncan and Neil McIntosh have been contacted and it is hoped to get others involved. RAF Lossiemouth are very happy to get involved with a celebration of the D Day landings. MPs etc to be contacted. This will bring attention to the Commonwealth graves. It was thought that representatives from the Schools and the Scouts be involved. Joy and the ladies of the Spey Bay hall to be asked if they would cater for the occasion. We will wait until January to discuss this at length and meanwhile Pringle to carry on with arrangements and communications. She will source information and report back to the committee.

Community Childrens Church Service in Portgordon- Carol by Candlelight – will be held at 6.00pm The Christmas market was very successful last weekend.

Dallachy Strike Wing Memorial – Pringle and Moira have been in touch with Frankie Shade and he will be carrying out some work on the slabs in the New Year when the weather is warmer. Gardening – Moira will get bulbs for the barrels and plant some flowers. Some work will also be carried out on the war graves.

Pringle is struggling with her eyesight and is awaiting an operation. She also mentioned that she would be selling her house and moving to Central Belt next year and we will therefore have to look for a treasurer and secretary.

Area Updates: Spey Bay – No report no update

Clochan – Pringle is waiting to hear from someone who may wish to represent Clochan

Portgordon – Xmas market went well. Lampie House Café was very busy. It was hoped that the 4 sets of Xmas lights would be put up this year. It was felt that the roads in Portgordon were a disgrace. The drain by the hall needs to be cleared. Hogmanay party – Tickets already sold out.
