Dear Mr Westmacott,

We were please when 28 King St was sold as we knew it was in a decrepit state and had the applicants been sensible and applied for a single storey extension with the roof slanting onto their own ground we wouldn't have objected.

What we are objecting to is the monstrosity he has applied for not only will it be detrimental to our well being as it will block out all our natural light and will exacerbate the drainage problem from rain we already have and the ground will never dry. To us it will be like going back to the 19th century dark, dank and fetid . As our houses are small we use the small gardens as an extension of our homes we like to eat and relax in our garden.

The design of the extension is not sympathetically done with any thought to the surrounding area and neighbours

Your sincerely

Ian Main
